Courses:	Taken:	Distribution Requirements (if any):

NOTE: No more than one course at the 1000 level can be counted toward the major.

NOTE: In order to enroll in one of the 4000-level courses, students must have taken at least four courses in Philosophy.

NOTE: Students may choose courses prefixed with GR only with the instructor's permission. Additionally, because these seminars will be capped, students should register early.

NOTE: Courses in which a grade of D has been received do not count toward the major or concentration.

Concentrators must take at least 24 points in Philosophy from courses prefixed with UN or GU.

There are no specific courses required for the concentration.

PHIL UN3912 (and above) is open to junior and senior concentrators who have taken at least four courses in philosophy.

Majors must take at least 30 points in Philosophy from courses prefixed with UN or GU.

DISTRIBUTION REQUIREMENTS FOR MAJORS:

- PHIL UN2101 or another course in the history of ancient or medieval philosophy
- PHIL UN2201 or another course in the history of late medieval or early modern philosophy (e.g. PHIL UN3237 or UN3264)
- PHIL UN3411 or, in exceptional cases, a more advanced course in logic
- At least one course in either metaphysics or epistemology (e.g. PHIL GU4501, UN3601, or a related course to be chosen in consultation with the director of undergraduate studies)
- At least one course in either systematic ethics or social and political philosophy (e.g. PHIL UN2702, UN3701, UN3751, or a related course to be chosen in consultation with the director of undergraduate studies)
- At least one seminar, UN3912.

PASS/FAIL Courses taken pass/fail normally do not count towards the major.

SUMMER COURSES Two courses taken in summer sessions can count towards the major.

SUBSTITUTIONS In some cases, it is possible to substitute courses for the specific courses required. Any requests for substitution must be submitted to the DUS (Director of Undergraduate Studies). Students who have already been allowed substitutions cannot expect to receive further substitutions.

CLASSES IN OTHER DEPARTMENTS In some instances, courses in other departments can count for credit towards the major. For example, the Religion department offers courses in philosophy of religion, and the Political Science Department offers courses in political philosophy. Questions about whether courses in other departments will count towards the major should be submitted to the DUS.

BARNARD COURSES The Columbia and Barnard Philosophy departments function together as a unit. The courses specifically designed for Barnard students (first-year and senior seminars) do not count towards the Columbia major or concentration. But all other courses in the Columbia-Barnard joint curriculum do count for the major or the concentration, regardless of whether the instructor is associated with Barnard or with Columbia.

CORE CLASSES Core classes such as Contemporary Civilization may not count towards the major or concentration.

TRANSFER CREDIT / STUDY ABROAD Courses taken at other institutions may count only after review and approval by the DUS (a written record of approval must be submitted to 708 Philosophy by the student or DUS). No more than 5 courses taken elsewhere may be applied to the major, and no more than 4 to the concentration.

The Joint Major in Economics-Philosophy

Philosophy Adviser:

Fall 2018 Professor David Albert, DUS, 706 Philosophy Hall, da5@columbia.edu

Spring 2019 Professor Philip Kitcher, 717 Philosophy Hall, psk16@columbia.edu

Economics Advising: Contact econ-advising@columbia.edu

Economics-philosophy is an interdisciplinary major that, while introducing students to the basic methodologies of economics and philosophy, stresses areas of particular concern to both. These include subjects such as rationality and decision making, justice and efficiency, freedom and collective choice, the logic of empirical theories and their testing. Many of the issues are dealt with historically.

Two advisers are assigned for the interdepartmental major, one in the Department of Economics and one in the Department of Philosophy. Please note that the economics adviser can only advise on the economics requirement and the philosophy adviser can only advise about on the philosophy requirements.

The departmental advisers strongly encourage prospective majors to discuss the major early in their sophomore year. Each major is expected to talk to the departmental advisers in the middle of his or her junior year and at the beginning of his or her senior year.

Senior Theses

Undergraduates majoring in Philosophy or Economics-Philosophy may propose to write a senior thesis. Students who wish to write a thesis should approach a faculty member at the end of their junior or beginning of their senior year, and begin working on the proposal early in the fall semester of their senior year. Proposals are due in early December, and will be reviewed by a committee which will include the Director of Undergraduate Studies; students will be notified of the committee's decision within two weeks. Students whose proposals are approved should register for their faculty advisor's section of Supervised Independent Research for the spring term of the senior year. Theses are due in early April.

Students who have a grade point average of 3.6 or above in the major and who complete a thesis will be placed into consideration for departmental honors, though any senior may complete a thesis regardless of their grade point average (upon approval of the proposal).

See the full policy and procedure concerning senior theses on the departmental webpage:
<http://philosophy.columbia.edu/content/senior-thesis-philosophy>

Departmental Honors

Departmental honors are highly competitive. Normally no more than 10% of the majors graduating in the department each year will receive departmental honors.

In order to qualify for departmental honors in philosophy, a student must have a grade point average of at least 3.6 in the major.

For students with a GPA of 3.6 or above, there are two possible routes to consideration:

1. A student may complete a senior thesis; those students who complete senior theses will automatically be considered for honors without having to be nominated.
2. A student may be nominated by a faculty member early in the spring semester of the senior year; nominated students will be invited to submit a writing sample at least 15 pages in length. A nominated student who is also writing a thesis may submit their thesis as the writing sample, or may choose to submit a different work.

Both the senior theses and writing samples are due in early April. The departmental honors committee will then review the submitted material and the academic records of the writers, and will report to the full faculty.

The full faculty will then decide which students to recommend for departmental honors to the Columbia College and General Studies administrations.
